Some fashion writers say that the day of elaborate hair-dressing has gone out and that simplicity reigns. To the average mortal this seems true. There is no more the quantity of false locks, chignons, water-falls and all the paraphernalia which used to decorate milady's dressing-table in use. She no longer puts her own back hair in a little wad and sets a hollow hemisphere over it. Nor is her glory mounted in pyramidal form, as in days of good Queen Bess. While the arrangement of her locks looks simple, it is anything but so. The bangs must be curled, then a row of hair clear around the head must be curled to give it a wavy, fluffy appearance; finally it is caught and bound to the head with numerous pins and combs. The curliness and the careless way in which it is seemingly put up looks as if it had taken but a moment to do all this. This effect is so desirable and so many ladies wish to have their hair done nicely that the professional hair-dresser comes to the house each day. There are quite a number who enjoy this luxury of sitting quietly down and having their coiffure made. Some whose purses have not so many quarters have the dresser come twice or three times a week, then between times they are very careful of their hair and put nets or veils on over night to keep the hair in place. Some others manage to comb their own hair every day, and whenever they go out to any kind of a gathering have the dresser attend to them. There are very few, in fact, one might almost say there is no society woman in Indianapolis who keeps a maid regularly to simply attend to the wardrobe and person of her mistress. The few who do so are professionally to make the toilette are experts, and no party or reception is complete where they are not in the dressing-rooms to lend any assistance possible.

GRAND BARGAIN OFFERING MONDAY

SILKS, WARM WEATHER DRESS STUFFS, WHITE GOODS, LACE FLOUNCINGS, WASH GOODS, ETC.

SILKS.

If it had not been for late purchases by our Mr. Wasson, now in New York, we would have to be silent in reference to this department, the cut price sale of the last week reduced our stock to such a low ebb. To-morrow we present as big a display as ever and at as low, and in some lines lower, prices than we have before offered.

One-line Printed India Silks

25c.

One line extra value, 50c.

Two lots of Wash Silks,

37c and 57c goods that cost the importer double the price named.

We offer another lot of Jacquard Changeable Silks at

79c. The same goods are on sale in many places at $1.50.

One lot Changeable Fancy at 89c with us. They were good sellers a few days ago at $1.25.

43-inch Cream Hemstitched India Silks, a few pieces at

$1.98, actual cost to import $2.50.

Cream Crystal Bengaline, a few pieces at $1, a cut from $1.75 a yard.

DRAPERY NETS

We have more Drapery Nets in stock to-day than we have sold in two seasons. We made a big venture—bought a pile of them—the price tempted us; we could not pass them. You can buy a 45-inch Silk and Wool Net, good style, for 25c, regular $1 seller. In the line there are four prices, 25c, 48c, 55c and 75c, and prices named not one-third cost to manufacture.

LACE FLOUNCINGS

We offer Monday over 200 pieces 40-inch Valenciennes and Chantilly Flouncings at less than half actual cost to importer.

We make three lots of the Valenciennes at 27c, 39c and 50c a yard. Here you have a selection that cost from 75c to $1.50 a yard to import.

Black Chantilly at 50c, value for $1 to $1.25.

Come early and get choice.

White Goods

This is the banner season in our history in this department. We had more space to give to this department and increased our stock accordingly. The result is most satisfactory. We were enabled to buy in full package lots, and give our customers rock-bottom prices. Monday we have some surprises for you in late purchases. You will find more goods and still lower prices. See the Sheer Check at 4c. One lot fine, in Plaids and Stripes, at 7c. One lot extra quality at 10c. Fine dotted Swiss at 12c.

Wash Dress Stuffs

We do not know how to begin to tell you all we have to say about this department, the purchases of Mr. Wasson during the past week put such an array of newness into the stock, and at prices that are so much lower than we have ever had the goods to offer.

A fine Wash Challie at 3c, light and medium grounds.

One lot dark ground at 5c, is a big value for three times that amount of money.

Fine Printed Mull Batiste, $1.35 suit, light and dark grounds and beautiful designs, production of home looms, but equal to finest French goods.

One lot Linen Zephyr, $1.25 suit, just half what the goods sold for a few weeks ago.

200 Suits of fine Scotch Zephyr Gingham, finest cotton fabrics imported; goods that cost to import from $5.50 to $7.50 a suit, you can buy them for just about half price.

One lot fine French Gingham at 17c.

Domestic Gingham, best dress styles, at 4c a yard.
